

Interfaith Works Announces Courtney Hall as New CEO

Interfaith Works is delighted to announce the appointment of Courtney Hall as its new CEO, effective November 1, 2020.

Courtney is an experienced leader with more than 17 years of service in the public and nonprofit sectors. Most recently he has been a key member of the leadership team of Housing Up in Washington DC, providing housing and support services to more than 700 homeless individuals and at-risk households.

“Courtney is an impressive talent known for his collaborative leadership style,” said Interfaith Works Board Chair Devang Shah. “His experience in building data-driven programs that lift and empower individuals and families from poverty makes him a great fit for the mission and values of Interfaith Works. We were fortunate to have many qualified candidates for this position and we are pleased Courtney has chosen to join us.”

Prior to his Housing Up experience, Courtney served as a Child Welfare leader in DC and Alabama. He received his Bachelor of Social Work from Oakwood University in Alabama, a Master of Social Work from The University of Alabama and holds a Nonprofit Management Executive Certificate from Georgetown University.

Courtney stated, “I am honored to have been selected as the next CEO of Interfaith Works. It is exciting to be part of an organization that specializes in delivering high quality services to our neighbors in Montgomery County. We are an organization led by a purpose – to advocate for an end to poverty. It will be my pleasure to lead our team as we develop new initiatives and strategies that fulfill this purpose.”

About Interfaith Works

Interfaith Works, founded in 1972, is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit agency and a non-sectarian interfaith coalition of more than 165 affiliated congregations of diverse faiths, working together to meet the needs of the poor and homeless in Montgomery County, Md. Our trained staff members work with individuals and families in crisis to help equip them to lift themselves from poverty and homelessness through prevention, stabilization and empowerment programs.
